CHAPTER V.

TEN days after her departure from Port Royal the Mary Rose was tumbling southward before a gentle breeze through the blue and languid seas.

Much had happened in the interval. In the first place, Morgan had organized and drilled the ship's crew relentlessly. With the aid of the five principal adventurers, whom he had constituted his lieutenants, he had brought the motley crowd which he had shipped into a state of comparative efficiency and of entire subjection to his iron will. The co-operative principle which had been the mainspring of action as well as tie which produced unity among the brethren of the coast had ceased to be regarded so far as Morgan was concerned. He took care, however, to be upon fairly amicable terms with the officers in command and the veterans, though he treated the rest of the riffraff like the dogs they were. They murmured and raged, but did not revolt, although it was quite possible if he pushed them too far and they found a leader they might make trouble.

In accordance with Hornigold's advice, after deliberation between Morgan and the leaders, the Mary Rose had first run up to La Vaca Island, south of Hispaniola, and the number of original marauders had been increased by fifty volunteers, all those, indeed, who could be reached from the small boats who made that delectable

The American Farmer the Best in the World.

The American farmer is the greatest man in the world to-day because he is master of the soil—he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as his products are increasing in magnitude. Our recent combings of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. For instance, the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $300,000,000 for their products in a single year. The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny. Providing your blood is in good order, it only needs a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood—by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shiver up the red blood corpuscles. As an alternative extract, made only of herbs and roots it goes about its work in nature's way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States. More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before—that is a true test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity.

Dr. Pierce's "Medical Adviser" sent on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

An example to the rest

the slender coherence which already existed would fall and anarchy would be the state upon the ship. So long as they remained together it was certain that Morgan would lead them on some successful enterprise, and they might get some reward for their risks and crimes. In his safety lay their safety.

The ship, however, was a floating colony of suspicion, treachery and hatred. Morgan himself never appeared without being loaded with weapons, not for bravado, but for use should occasion rise, and his back was always protected by the silent and gigantic maroon, whom the sailors, catching the title from those who had known him of old, referred to with malignant hatred as Black Dog. That was a name, indeed, which the taciturn half breed rather rejoiced in than resented. Morgan had been able to awaken love in no hearts except those of young Teach, whose feeling was admiration rather than affection, and this half breed maroon. Whether it was from his black African mother or from his fierce red Carib father that he inherited the quality of devotion was not apparent. Devoted he had been and devoted he remained.

There was one among the officers Morgan was sure of and upon whom he could depend in an emergency, and that was young Teach. He had flattered him by unusual marks of kindness, and alone among the officers this fellow did not seem to cherish the rancor and suspicion of the others. He was too young to have experienced a betrayal, as had the rest. This was his first venture in actual piracy, and he found it marvellously pleasant.

The officers, too, were all suspicious of one another. As each one nursed his own private designs he suspected the others of doing likewise, and with reason. But there was as yet little outward friction among them. Ravensau, for instance, was most scrupulously polite to the captain and his associates. Velsers was too stupid in them—to do more than growl, and the Brazilian had all the capacities of his race for subtle concealment.

Although the necessary orders for working the ship were obeyed and Morgan personally imposed implicit obedience and respect for his commands, no duties other than those required were performed by the men. During the day when not at work or at drill they drank, smoked, gambled and fought at pleasure, although, as the captain mercilessly exercised them during long hours at the great guns and with small arms, they did not have any too much leisure for play. During the night they kept watch and watch, of course, but in it all they took no care of the ship, and filth and dirt abounded. If they had anticipated a long cruise things would necessarily have been different, but as they had gone far to the southward now and might make a landfall at any moment there was no necessity for bothering about mere cleanliness. Morgan had not communicated his ultimate purposes to his men as yet, but as he was the only navigator on the ship he was perforce allowed to have his own way.

Breakfast had been served—a meager breakfast it was, too, for all hands were on short allowance of everything but spirits, on account of the unprovided state of the ship. Fortunately for their contentment there was plenty of rum on board. The men were congregated forward on the fore-castle or in the waist, wrangling and arguing as usual. The officers gathered on the quarter deck, and Morgan paced the high raised poop alone, overlooking them, when the lookout suddenly reported three sail in sight. The half drunken sailor who had been sent aloft at daybreak had kept negligent watch, for almost as soon as he had made his report the ships were observed from the deck of the frigate.

The Mary Rose had the wind on her quarter, her best point of sailing, and she was covered with canvas from her trucks to her decks, from her spritsail yard to her huge mizzen crossjack, a lateen sail. The wind was light, but she was making rapid progress toward the approaching strangers, who, with their harbor tacks abed, were beating up toward the English.

Attended by the maroon, Morgan, pistol in hand, went forward to the fore-castle, kicking his way clear through the sullen, black brood mass of sailors. He ran a short distance up the weather fore shrouds and took a long look at the strangers. They all flew the yellow flag of Spain. One was a huge galleon, the other two smaller ships, though larger in each instance than the Mary Rose, and all heavily armed.

One of the plate ships from Porto Bello was due in this latitude about this time, and Morgan instantly surmised that the galleon was she and that the two others were Spanish frigates to give her safe convey across the ocean. Spain was at peace with all the world at that time, and the two frigates would have been ample to ward off the attack of any of the small piratical craft which had succeeded the buccaneer ships of the Caribbean. The Spaniards had no idea that such a vulture as Morgan was afloat; therefore, although they had sighted the Mary Rose long before she had seen them, because they kept better watch, they came on fearlessly and without hesitation. It was evident to the experienced officers among them that the vessel was an English frigate, and as England was a country with which there was profound peace at the time they apprehended nothing.

BLOW TO BALFOUR

British Premier Not Permitted to Address the Commons.

A SENSATIONAL SCENE

Debate on the Colonial Question Marked By Such Disorder as Has Not Arisen in Years.

Speaker Was Finally Compelled to Exert His Prerogative and Adjourn the Sitting.

London, May 23.—The sitting of the house of commons last night was marked by scenes of the wildest disorder growing out of a motion by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman to adjourn the house in order that he might discuss the charge against Premier Balfour of having violated his pledge not to deal with the subject of colonial preference without first appealing to the country.

Alfred Lyttelton, secretary of state for the colonies, was put up to reply to the Liberal leader, but the members of the opposition shouted down his every attempt to speak, even after the premier had demanded a hearing for the secretary. Finally the speaker, after he had exhausted every effort to quell the turbulence, put into force for the first time a new rule empowering him to adjourn the house in the cases of great disorder.

The debate was marked by scenes of the wildest disorder. The Liberal leader demanded a plain answer from Premier Balfour, and Alfred Lyttelton, secretary of state for the colonies, rose to reply. The members of the opposition drowned the efforts of the secretary with cries of "Balfour, Balfour," after continuing for about ten minutes, Mr. Lyttelton sat down. Winston Churchill then attempted to speak, but the ministerialists drowned his efforts, the Nationalists joining in the din and shouting for the police.

After a number of members had failed to secure a hearing, the premier rose to a point of order and a temporary lull followed. Mr. Balfour said he thought it highly improper that he should be immediately expected to follow the leader of the opposition. He said he had never before known the opposition to refuse to hear a minister, and he insisted that the house should hear Secretary Lyttelton, as otherwise the dignity of the house could not be maintained. Mr. Lyttelton again made an attempt to speak, but the uproar was resumed. Finally the speaker said it was obvious that the scene could not continue, and he would therefore adjourn the house under the rule empowering the speaker to take such action in cases of grave disorder. The speaker had been unable to secure even a semblance of order after howls and counter howls lasting over an hour.

The action of the speaker and the scenes in the house created a tremendous sensation in the lobbies, which were crowded with members discussing every phase of the evening's occurrences, which were declared to be unprecedented. The galleries were filled with peers and other distinguished persons who gathered in the hope of hearing an interesting debate on the fiscal question. They took part in the cries for their favorites, thus adding to the din, and afterward joined the excited crowds in the lobbies.

The Liberal leaders afterward held a conference and considered that a vote of censure on Premier Balfour will be moved by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

GOVERNOR MEANS BUSINESS

Chief Executive Speaks His Mind on Evansville Situation.

Indianapolis, May 23.—Governor Hanly certainly means business in his efforts to enforce the law. It has been understood at the statehouse for a long time that he was very much displeased with the conditions at Evansville. It is difficult, however, for him to get control of the situation there, as the city is not under the metropolitan police law. If it were it is safe to say there would have been a different order of things long before this. The governor had a good opportunity for speaking his mind on the subject when Mayor Covert of Evansville called to see him regarding one of the candidates to succeed Congressman-elect Foster on the superior court bench of Vanderburg county. He asked Covert about the situation and then told him plainly that he is confident the people generally would be pleased with a strict enforcement of the law. He spoke so earnestly that persons in the next room heard him. Covert, with an attempt at good nature, stated afterward that it was not difficult to see how the governor stood. He added that the governor will soon speak at Evansville, after which it may be possible to enforce the law a little better.

A surprising statement was made today by U. G. Humphrey, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Indiana to the effect that within a year 75 per cent of the state will be "dry," meaning that 75 per cent of the people will be without saloons. The fact that 60 per cent is already "dry" is not generally known, but statistics gathered by the league show that it is. The work of the league has been more far-reaching than the general public has any idea. It is true that the state statistician's recent report showed that there were 131 more saloons in the state in 1904 than in the preceding year, but Humphrey said that ninety-five of the new saloons are in Indianapolis. The remainder are scattered among the larger cities. The league has been more effective in the rural communities and smaller towns and cities. The saloons will be driven out of them soon if the league continues at the present pace, and then the larger cities will be tackled. Humphrey said the crusade against the saloons is taking like wild-fire and cannot be stopped. Under the Moore law enacted by the recent legislature providing that a remonstrance may be filed against one or all applicants for retail license in a ward or township, Humphrey thinks the crusade will be even more effective than ever. There are a number of cities where two-year remonstrances have already been filed, and more are to be filed within the next few weeks.

The race for the Republican nomination for mayor here promises to be one of the liveliest political affairs in the history of the city. A direct primary will necessitate the same activity displayed before the wind-up of a campaign in which all parties are involved. The direct vote of the people will settle the matter and the candidates are very anxious to get to the people. In order to do so they will perfect an organization almost as thorough as the regular party organization. They will make many speeches in attempting to convince the people how to vote correctly. Both candidates have their headquarters opened and are meeting hundreds of people daily and sending out cartloads of literature.

The announcement that Fassett A. Cotton of this city is a candidate for a third term as state superintendent of public instruction was made public this morning. It was somewhat in the nature of a surprise, as it had been reported that he would not run. The announcement, however, was made at this time for the purpose of putting a stop to the talk that he will not be a candidate. It has not been the custom for a superintendent to serve more than two terms. But one man filled the office that long. There is a growing feeling, however, among educators that the office should be removed as far as possible from politics and that a superintendent should be retained so long as he is accomplishing good work.

Mysterious Illinois Tragedy.
Savannah, Ill., May 23.—Daniel S. Berry, who was prominent as a lawyer and who was a former member of the legislature, was shot and killed at the door of his office. Mr. Berry had just come from home and was unlocking the door of his office when he was shot from behind, one bullet striking him in the arm and the other penetrating his brain. He died instantly. There were no witnesses to the tragedy, and there are no developments throwing any light upon the mystery.

Shot Through Window.
Silver Lake, Ind., May 23.—The authorities are investigating an attempt to assassinate Simeon Trump, a well-known farmer, who was sitting by his window when a bullet crashed through the glass within a few inches of his head. The venerable gentleman has no enemies to his knowledge, but the purpose of assassination was so plain that there is no doubt his life was sought.

Awful Mortality in India.
London, May 23.—Three-quarters of a million of people have already died of the plague in India this year, according to figures furnished by Indian Secretary Brudrick in the house of commons. The mortality from Jan. 1 to April 1, was 471,744, while another 215,971 succumbed during the four weeks ending April 29.

CLEANING THINGS UP

Ladies Church Auxiliary of Nashville Takes a Determined Stand for Temperance Reform.

Illicit Traffic in Liquors in That Neighborhood Has Been Made Obnoxious.

Nashville, Ind., May 23.—The Ladies' Church Auxiliary has succeeded in ridding Washington township, Brown county, of one of its "blind tiger" saloons, and is now preparing to "clean out" another in Nashville. This city has not had a licensed saloon for eight years past, but liquor is sold here regardless of law, day and night, and the temperance people are kept busy circulating remonstrances.

Joseph W. Robinson, who had been operating a "blind tiger" saloon at Belmont for several months, has packed his household goods and moved himself and family to Illinois. He had published his notice of application for a license to retail liquors at Belmont and his application was to come before the county commissioners at their June term.

A remonstrance, however, had been signed by a majority of the voters of Washington township. Besides, it is said, the last grand jury indicted Robinson for violating the liquor law and that he "got wind" of the double trouble and fled. Robinson had been bringing liquor to Nashville and selling it secretly. Another "blind tiger," however, is now operating in the town and the women will attempt to close it.

RURAL ENTERPRISE

Indiana Farmers Reaching Out For Electric Light.

Anderson, Ind., May 23.—To have their homes and premises connected with the municipal electric light plant in this city is the proposition that several farmers have made to the city council. The first petition for such service was from a number of farmers living four miles northeast of this city. They propose to interest farmers between their homes and the city in order to reduce the cost of the service.

Mayor Forkner and members of the council look favorably on the farmers' proposition, for since the electric light plant has been enlarged it has a surplus of power, and this surplus can be converted into money. The cost of running wires to the rural districts will not be heavy, as the farmers have agreed to furnish the poles. With electric light for their homes and barns and also small motors to drive machinery, farmers will soon be enjoying some of the modern utilities and conveniences of cities.

Young Men in Trouble.
Warsaw, Ind., May 23.—Frank Harris and Amos Clark, two well-known young men of Warsaw, are in jail on a burglary charge growing out of an alleged spree Thursday evening, when the Centilvre brewery depot was broken into and a quantity of beer stolen.

Wants Revolution Pension.
Goshen, Ind., May 23.—"Grandma" Mick of Goshen, as a daughter of Jacob Chubb, soldier in the Revolutionary war under George Washington, has had a letter written to Senator Beveridge asking for his help in obtaining a pension.

Killed by the Cars.
South Bend, Ind., May 23.—William Branan, aged twenty-five, of Youngstown, O., was found lying on the railroad tracks south of here with both legs cut off. It is not known whether it was an accident or he was thrown from a train.

The Defense Scored.

New Albany, Ind., May 23.—The demurrer filed by the state to the plea in abatement filed by the defense to quash the indictment against the Rev. U. G. Sutherland, charged with wife murder, was overruled. The court will today set a time for the defense to submit proof to sustain the plea in abatement. If the plea is held good Sutherland's release will follow.

Mrs. Livermore May Recover.
Melrose, Mass., May 23.—It is announced that the crisis in the illness of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore has been passed and that she is slightly better. It was also stated that if her condition remained the same during the next thirty-six hours there was a possibility of her recovery.

Falling Off in Revenues.
Washington, May 23.—The monthly statement of the collections of internal revenue shows that for the month of April the total receipts were $17,469,291, a decrease as compared with 1904, of $197,152.

Hearing Nearing an End.
Washington, May 23.—The senate committee on interstate commerce's investigation of railroad rates has almost drawn to a close.

Stave Factory Fire.

A disastrous fire was narrowly averted at McDonald's Stave Factory Tuesday forenoon. Fire started in one of the big sheds in which is stored a vast amount of staves. It was discovered by the men at the factory before it had made any headway and by quick action the flames were soon extinguished. But just a few moments delay would have meant several thousands of dollars loss. The loss is probably $100 covered by insurance. The source of the fire is not known but it probably started from a spark from some engine.

JOB FOR UNCLE SAM

Believed That Russians Will Test American Neutrality.

Paris, May 23.—Much attention is given here to Vice Admiral Rojstevsky's probable passage into the Pacific north of the island of Luzon, and suggestions are made that the reported intentions of the Russians to rendezvous at the island of Babuyan will give the American authorities in the Philippines the same difficulties in preserving remote points against the incursions of Admiral Rojstevsky that the French authorities experienced in the waters of Indo-China. One naval expert lengthy points out that the information brought by various steamers to Chinese ports confirms the previous view that Rojstevsky is skirting the north of the Philippines into the Pacific. It is maintained that the strategic object thus accomplished is avoiding Japanese torpedo attacks and the mines in the straits of Formosa and the subsequent concentration of the Japanese fleet in the straits of Korea, leaving Rojstevsky free to make a long detour and reach Vladivostok through one of the northern straits of Japan. However, it is pointed out that the presence of the Russian fleet north of the Philippines places the Russians only a few hundred miles from the Japanese naval base at Kure, in the northern part of the island of Formosa, and that a fight is still possible before the other commences.

Russians Severely Repulsed.
Tokio, May 23.—Imperial army headquarters has made the following announcement: A body of the enemy's cavalry, dismounted, attacked Tang-shed, on the right bank of the Liao river, thirteen miles southwest of Faku-men, on the morning of May 20. Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others who were also cured." FICKLE DAME FASHION.

"Everything Goes" Appears to Be the Present Modistic Watchword.

It would be a wise fashion writer who could say with authority that this or that will be the vogue for the season now so close at hand, for everything worn from the days of the big leaf to this hour is seen, modified, of course, to meet the cultivated taste of the woman of today, who is nothing if not eclectic. "Everything goes," and we see things properly belonging to widely different epochs mingled into one harmonious whole and that whole looking as if it had borrowed nothing from the brave days of old.

The full circular skirt is seen on the figures in the best stores side by side with the skirt which fits as closely by means of its tucks and shirrings as the habit skirt of a few seasons ago. Some look best in one kind and some in the other, and it is a wise woman who knows her own shortcomings and skillfully hides them by the skirt she wears.

All the lovely soft stuffs are in strong evidence, from the filmy silk chiffon to the flexible and beautiful volles of all wool, of half wool and half silk. The liberty silks and satins make up into exceedingly pretty gowns for all sorts of occasions. The quantities of lace put upon them passes belief, and the flounces and ruffles are legion and fully as graceful and dainty as they are numerous. I saw some very beautiful dresses destined for summer wear. They were of the softest and most elegant light pastel shades—green, pale and frosty; champagne, drab, beige, cadet blue, and others where there were two colors so interwoven that the fabric became iridescent, one in particular, a dove color shading from purple to metallic blue. These gowns are all made with drop skirts, and the underskirt always is arranged with a view to carrying out the general color scheme.

Shirring Galore.

Much shirring and many yards of lace are put on these dresses, nearly all of which have elbow sleeves. The edges are finished off with several lace ruffles. With these sleeves are worn the long gloves, which are now coming forward after a long period of obscurity. A few have the sleeves of the material short, but have long, snug forearm pieces which reach quite to the back of the hand, and these are always of lace, generally the heavy Irish crochet, which has obtained a new lease of life. The majority of sleeves on the newest costumes, even those of cloth, are very ornamental and very clumsy, especially those intended for street wear. They are full and have deep cuffs, very much shirred and trimmed with fancy braids, in addition to which there is some lace.

The cloth suits nearly all now have some form of a vest front. This is handsomely garnished with all the fine and rich material one can get on. Most of the lighter materials are made up with much drapery across the front, sometimes in surplice style and again in cross gathers and folds. While the drooping blouse effect has not entirely gone from our gaze like an unpleasant dream, the waists of that style do not hang down so far and often are drawn quite close to the figure. The girdles and fancy belts help to give the pointed effect without the shapeless fullness.

Heavily raised embroidery is considered the height of style for wash waists, though many are made with the old fashioned eyelet embroidery. Among the accessories shown me recently were yoke expes and berrias of silk, mull, batiste and fine linen all with eyelet work. Incidentally I might mention some beautiful small capes of black net entirely covered with black spangles and some with black and steel ones. These are to wear over the pretty thin gowns and are certainly beautiful. Parasols are things of delicate beauty, of soft silks and chiffons, dainty and light, and trimmed with bows of ribbon and in some cases flowers and ruffles.

Silks will be the great rage for outdoor dresses and suits, generally in a fine and close quality of taffeta, sometimes slightly changeable. They are overwhelmed with lace and flounces. Coats long, short and half length will be worn to match.

Coats of every kind of poncee are already seen. A very stylish one had the skirt made circular and reaching just below the knees, while the waist was bloused in slightly. The sleeves had plaited caps about halfway to the elbows and below a monstrously full bishop shape with deep stitched cuffs. The coat itself was neat and comfortable, but the clumsy sleeves destroyed its beauty. Still all the women admired it greatly. It was unlined.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonders of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

German Turners of America and Europe to Meet at Indianapolis.

The citizens of Indianapolis will spend $25,000 in entertaining visitors the week of June 21st, when the North American Gymnastic Union holds its festival at the State fair grounds. This union is made up of German physical culture societies of this country, and contesting teams will come from England, Germany, Holland and Italy for the Indianapolis meeting. The Gymnastic Union holds its festivals once every four years and in magnitude and beauty they are more pretentious than the Olympic games of old. Men, women and children will make up the force of 3,000 athletes, who will camp at the fair grounds. Down in the city there will be day and night parades, band concerts and a festival play will be given. The railroad rate to the festival is one fare for the round trip, plus 25 cents, good going June 20th-22d, and returning until June 27th. Excursion tickets to Indianapolis will be sold via Pennsylvania Lines June 20th to 23d, inclusive. For time of trains and further information, consult Local Ticket Agents of Pennsylvania Lines.

NO FEE TO FISH

In Michigan, the Mecca This Year of Indiana Tourists as in Years Past.

Positive information received from Michigan authorities states there is no truth whatever in a report that an annual fee of $25 or any other fee will be imposed on non-resident fishermen in Michigan. A rumor of such a law having been passed in Michigan is stamped as absolutely without foundation. The origin of this false report is traced to talk current last winter when a question was raised in legislative proceedings concerning the subject, but no action taken, legislators not deeming such a measure advisable. Nothing further has been done, and tourists from Indiana are assured that they need not forego their customary outing to Michigan resorts this summer on the score of being confronted by a tax collector, for there are none such to bar the way.

Judging from the many inquiries already received by W. W. Richardson, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines, Indianapolis, regarding Michigan resorts and the famous fishing, there will be more than the usual number of Indiana tourists enjoy their summer outing in those health and pleasure havens where neither hay fever nor fishing fees exist.

I recommend that the citizens of Seymour, Indiana, join with the survivors of those who have so gallantly defended our Nation's honor, and do homage to the memory of the heroic dead.

That the memory of the legion of immortal heroes may be perpetuated, as an inspiration to their countrymen to stimulate them to acts of patriotism, love of country and observance of law, I, therefore, request that all citizens desist from their several occupations. Let business cease and all public offices be closed, so that all may devote the day to sacred memories of the departed dead, and by acts of devotion and words of gratitude bespeak the constancy of our love and esteem.

Let the flags on all public buildings be placed at half mast through the observance of the day.

Presbyterians Vote to Revoke the Cumberland Church.

Winona, Ind., May 21.—The Cumberland Presbyterian church was voted into the general assembly here, amid a storm of applause, without a speech and without a dissenting vote. It was the final action of the Presbyterian church on one of the greatest questions that has come before it since the civil war.

The special committee in its report canvassed the vote taken by presbyteries on the question of union. It showed 144 votes "yes," 23 "no." Two took no action, one gave conditional assent and five made no report. The special committee, in its recommendations, asked that the proposition be referred to the committee on cooperation and union; that it have power to confer with a committee from the Cumberland church; that it find what details must be worked out to consummate the union, and that a report be made to the general assembly next year.

This committee is to consider the corporate and legal rights of both general assemblies, and it is understood the new members of the committee will be the best lawyers in the Presbyterian church. The purpose is to keep the consolidation within legal limits, that all civil suits and injunctions may be avoided. The report was accepted as a whole and in detail without a hint of opposition. The committee is to make a report on some other affairs, including consolidation with the reformed church.

The general assembly also voted to name a special committee to arrange for the celebration of the 200th anniversary in May next year of the first presbytery formed in Philadelphia. It is understood the celebration will be held in Philadelphia in connection with the general assembly. Disregarding traditions, a strong element in the general assembly is endeavoring to sound the death knell of hymns, and it is believed that when the order of ritual comes up for discussion Friday a fight will be made to have the church return to psalms.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A Good Suggestion.

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lenox City, Fla., has written the manufacturer that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Mr. Russell Will Testify.

Washington, May 23.—Mr. Bowen having requested that William W. Russell, late minister to Colombia, be called in the Loomis-Bowen controversy, the president has decided to postpone his decision in the matter until after Mr. Russell's arrival and examination. Mr. Russell is on his way from Bogota and probably will not reach Washington for more than two weeks. Mr. Bowen has been advised that he may go to his home and need not return to Washington until Mr. Russell reaches the country.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat-producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

A Difference of Opinion.

Fresno, Cal., May 23.—The Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly is in the midst of a warm debate on the union question. Two reports have been presented. A majority report gave a complete list of the Presbyteries which had voted and declared that the union had been constitutionally agreed to by the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the basis adopted. A minority report agreed with the majority with reference to the facts of the vote, except one presbytery, but claimed that the church has no constitutional right to unite with another church, and therefore the union has not been constitutionally agreed to.

How to Ward Off Old Age.

The most successful way of warding off the approach of old age is to maintain a vigorous digestion. This can be done by eating only food suited to your age and occupation, and when any disorder of the stomach appears take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct it. If you have a weak stomach or are troubled with indigestion, you will find these Tablets to be just what you need. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Elaborate Ceremonies Promised.

Chicago, May 23.—A new route to the Southwest independent of the St. Louis gateway is to be given Chicago shippers in the near future. This is to be accomplished by crossing the Mississippi river at Thebes, about 150 miles south of St. Louis. To make the new route possible it was necessary to construct a new bridge across the river at the point named. This structure has just been completed and will be opened for traffic with elaborate ceremonies on Thursday of this week.

GROUND FOR HOPE

Indications Point To Early Settlement of Chicago Strike.

ONE POINT IN DISPUTE

Question of Taking Back Striking Express Drivers the Thing on Which Issue Hinges.

Express Companies Remain Firm but say They Will Keep No Back List.

Chicago, May 23.—After a conference lasting for three hours, representatives of the teamsters' union and the employers declare that the prospects for the settlement of the strike are excellent and that the end of the trouble may be looked for at any time within the next forty-eight hours. The stumbling block in the negotiations is the declaration by the express companies that none of their striking drivers will be taken back under any conditions. All other terms submitted by the employers to the strikers have been accepted. The managers of the express companies declare that while they will re-employ none of their drivers, they have no intention of keeping a black list, and there will be no objection to any driver who secures a position with some express company other than the one by which he was employed at the time he struck. He would be given a position, it was asserted, if a vacancy existed at the time of his application. This phase of the strike was the only matter discussed at the last conference, and in the opinion of all present it opened a way for a settlement and the negotiations will be continued.

President Shea of the teamsters said after leaving the conference that he considered the chances good for the settlement of the strike, and Attorney Mayer for the employers expressed similar views.

Despite this move for peace, the lumbermen's association is preparing for an extension of the strike. At a meeting of this organization it was decided that all teamsters employed by the sixty-five firms composing the association, would compel their drivers to make deliveries of consignments to strike-bound houses. Twelve of these firms have enforced the order, and between 200 and 300 of the drivers quit work.

HELD OFF POSSE

Kentucky Negro Resists Siege but is Finally Smoked Out.

Owensboro, Ky., May 23.—Bob Shaw, a negro, supposedly insane, killed one man and wounded seven near Waitman and was later killed by a posse, his body being riddled with bullets. Shaw was terrorizing the community around Waitman and an appeal was sent to this city for help. A posse was at once formed, but as soon as they approached the madman's house he opened fire on them.

Town Marshal Watson was shot in the face and Deputy Marshal John J. Jackson in the back. Others wounded were Dr. G. H. Plitt, on the hand; a boy named Howard, and a boy named Pelly, in the leg.

Later a posse headed by Sheriff Kelly went from Lewisport to Waitman and found Shaw sitting on his front porch. Shaw quickly barricaded himself in his house. The posse tried to storm the house, but the negro opened fire, wounding James Ford and John Robinson. He apparently had only small shot, which saved the lives of those he shot at. Shaw was shot at twice. He had two revolvers, but announced that he would save them for work at close quarters. A great crowd gathered around the house, keeping at a safe distance. Will C. Brown, a deputy sheriff of Hancock county, volunteered to go to the house and take Shaw. When within fifteen feet of Shaw the crazy man fired, blowing Brown's head completely off. A mob of men and boys then surrounded Shaw's house and set it on fire. Shaw remained in the burning house as long as he could stand the heat, and finally leaped out and tried to escape. Nearly a hundred shots were fired and Shaw's body was riddled with bullets.
